ROLE

Architect with Joe Bobrowicz serving as Consulting Interior Designer

DESCRIPTION

The architectural design compliments the building's geometry of chambered corners while providing generous reception areas, conference rooms, and boardrooms with the latest "invisible" technology, glass-fronted offices, and well-appointed amenity spaces, which includes a private, formal dining room and catering pantry. The new, interconnecting stair capped by an LED color-enhanced cove is both a physical and visual connection to the executive areas below. The open granite stair floats free from the walls, while an internally-illuminated etched glass prism evolves from the base of the stair, spilling light into the 30th floor.
