DESCRIPTION

Known as Garage A West and Garage E/F, these two structures formed bookends to the existing Garages A East through D. Flanking Interstate 95, the garages serve as the entry gateway to the Philadelphia. As the form-giver within the architectural/engineering design team, BLTa led the way in the massing and composition of these structures. While the existing five-story garages were the spring point for the initial height and detailing of the additions, the new garages have deftly increased to seven stories in height. Iconic canopies were added to all garage entries, new and old.
